Branson Convention Center to Host Essential Safety Training for Event Professionals

(BRANSON, MO, March 26, 2025) The Branson Convention Center, in collaboration with Thunder Ridge Nature Arena, is proud to announce a Trained Crowd Manager & Situational Awareness Training for event professionals across Southwest Missouri and Northeast Arkansas. Scheduled for Monday, March 31, 2025, this one-day session will be held at the Branson Convention Center, located at 200 South Sycamore Street. The training is administered by the International Association of Venue Managers, a nationally recognized leader in venue safety and event operations training.

This training is designed for venue staff, event coordinators, security personnel, and anyone responsible for public safety at events. Attendees will receive expert guidance with actionable strategies to better manage event safety in real time. Registration is just $30 per person and includes lunch.

Key topics covered include:

- Effective crowd management techniques
- Identifying and responding to potential threats
- Emergency preparedness and crisis response
- Proven best practices for maintaining a safe and secure event environment

“With public safety being more important than ever, this training is a must for anyone involved in event operations,” said Angie Teel, General Manager, Branson Convention Center. “We’re excited to offer an affordable and accessible opportunity to elevate the professionalism, confidence, and preparedness of our region’s event personnel.”

This is the perfect chance to strengthen your team’s safety skills and readiness. Learn more and register today at: <https://www.bransoncc.com/locals/continuing-education-training/>
